

← Back to home

Why am I not receiving the maximum amount of Additional Subsidy based on my income tier?

Subsidy - Application

Updated by ECDA 7mo ago

You may not receive the maximum Additional Subsidy for your income tier because all families must pay a minimum co-payment amount. This co-payment amount increases as your income tier rises.

Your subsidy eligibility is adjusted to account for this minimum co-payment requirement. Even if you qualify for the maximum Additional Subsidy for your income tier, the actual amount you receive takes into account the required minimum co-payment based on your household income and fees charged. Please refer to the Childcare and Infant Care subsidy table (<https://file.go.gov.sg/ecda-subsidy-table-cc-ifc.pdf>).

For example: If your household income is $3,000 or less, you could be eligible for up to $467 in Additional Subsidy plus a $300 Basic Subsidy. However, if your child's full-day programme fee costs $741, you would receive $438 in Additional Subsidy (not the full $467) because of the $3 minimum co-payment applicable for your income tier. [E.g. $$741 - $300 - $3 = \438].

Please note that the assessed income used to determine Additional Subsidy eligibility includes base salary, bonuses, commissions, overtime pay, allowances, and employee CPF contributions.

Did you find your answer?

No

Yes

Topics: Preschool Subsidies

Related questions

How much preschool subsidy can a non-working parent receive?

ECDA | Updated 7mo ago | 9

How do I estimate my subsidies?

ECDA | Updated 2mo ago

Why have the childcare subsidy rates and table been revised?

ECDA | Updated 7mo ago

Who is eligible for Basic and Additional Subsidies?

ECDA | Updated 7mo ago

Need more help?

Describe your issues to us.

Contact us

Visit Early Childhood Development Agency website

Feedback

Privacy

Terms of Use

Report Vulnerability

Did you find your answer?

Created with

Built by

©2026 Open Government Products

Did you find your answer?